American Mortgage Network is an employee-owned mortgage banker based in Chula Vista, Calif. It entered the business in 2019 and now has 119 employees.

In August 2020, AmNet added to its employee base by entering into a partnership with Active Duty Passive Income, an organization dedicated to helping those who have served in the military to become financially independent and build sustainable income.

Company executives believe the employee stock option plan is a big reason why it appears on the Best Mortgage Companies to Work For list.

“Well, that means that everybody owns this company together as a team and that actually means that we’re all in this together so that you’ve got a lot more synergy and camaraderie across the board,” said David Wallace, executive vice president. “I’m talking from staff accountants to closers to loan officers to everybody, we’re all in this together, it’s not an us versus them mentality.”
